The 1947 BARNACLE
gives a porthole

HYANNIS

MASSACHUSETTS

FOREWORD:

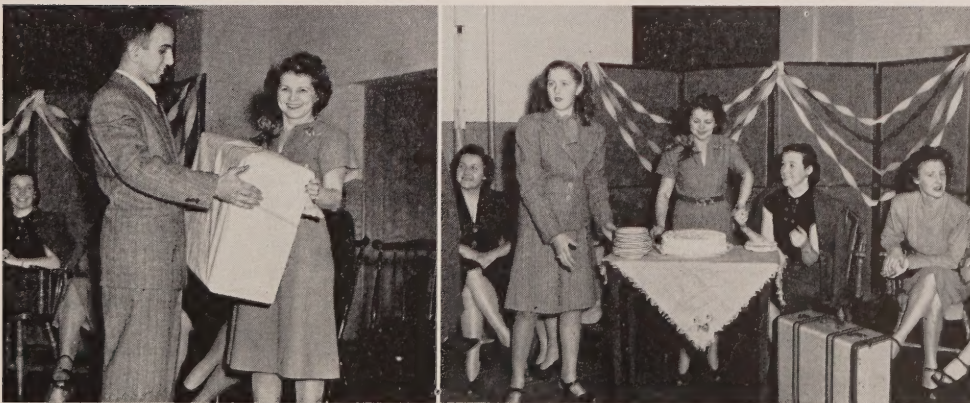

We members of the Class of '47 have passed through a very important period of our lives. During our twelve years of schooling, our teachers and parents have striven to give us a sound educational background to enable us to become decent Americans. They have done their utmost to prepare us for our future. Now we must take the helm and steer our own courses in life. We must sail up the channel of success in order to prove to them that their efforts were not all in vain.

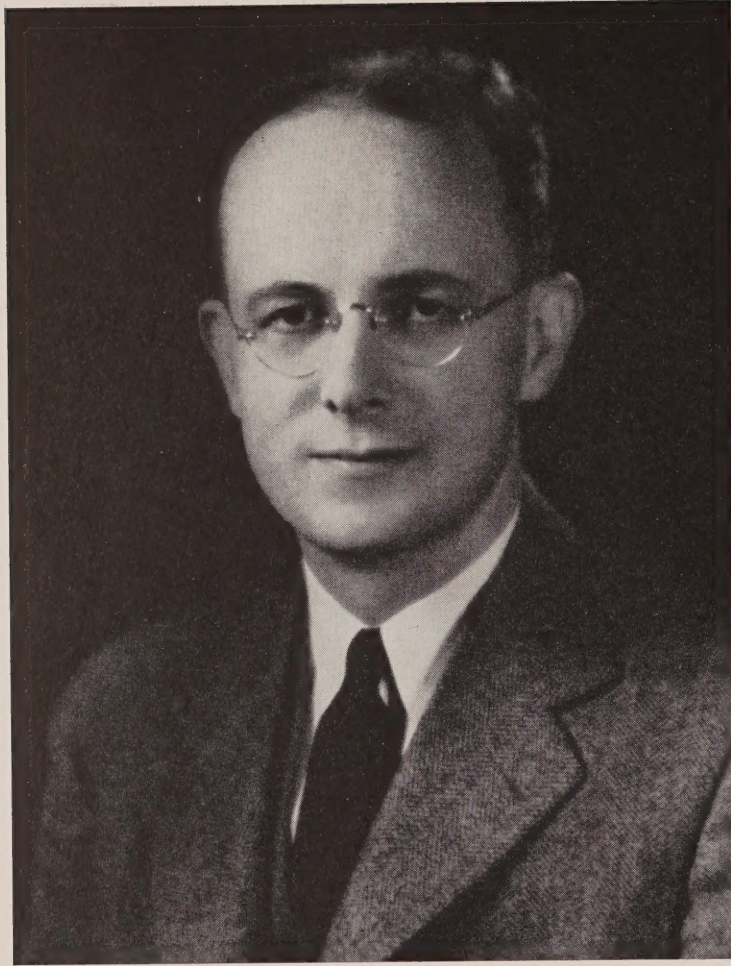

Between the covers of this edition of our yearbook, "The Barnacle," we have attempted to give a pictorial resume of our unforgettable years at Barnstable High School. We have tried to show the progress of our class through these bygone years; the various academic courses and the activities in which we participated; and the highlights of our stay in this port, our school. Because of the valuable training received, let us always remember and cherish our schooling at Barnstable High School.

We, the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Forty-seven, dedicate this edition of THE BARNACLE to Miss Mildred Richards, our adviser, who did splendid work in outlining its framework in detail, getting it off to a good start, and helping the staff in their many problems that editing and publishing presented. Although she left our school before THE BARNACLE was published, she made special trips here frequently to advise and aid us further in preparing it for publication. It was only through the untiring efforts of Miss Richards that this edition of THE BARNACLE was made possible.

FREDERICK M. HODGE, the captain of our ship

The class of 1947 has attended high school under very unusual circumstances. Three months after you entered this school in 1941 came the attack on Pearl Harbor, and the entry of the United States into a war which lasted almost until the beginning of your junior year. Although no members of this class were called to serve in the armed forces, your program of studies and your school activities were affected considerably by the war. Only during the last two years have you had an opportunity to attend high school under peacetime conditions.

As the end of your senior year approaches, conditions throughout the world continue to be very unsettled. Many difficult problems must be solved in the next few years. In our democratic country, each citizen must accept responsibility not only for living a worthy private life, but also for helping to solve the problems which confront the American people in their local, state, national, and international affairs.

Many of the facts that you have learned in school will undoubtedly be forgotten within a few years. However, if you and the thousands of other young men and women who are graduating from high schools this year throughout the United States have acquired a real desire and interest in performing your duties as citizens in an intelligent manner, our democratic system of government will be greatly strengthened.

I extend my best wishes to you all for success in the coming years, and hope that your interest in Barnstable High School will continue after graduation.

On these pages are pictured views of the various departments of Barnstable High School. These photos give a good cross-section view of the daily life at our school. Here in the shops and classes of B. H. S. we have been able to gain forever-important preparation in our chosen vocations or fields. We of the Senior crew are very thankful, indeed, to all our teachers who have kept us sailing steadfastly ahead through storm and calm.

*"Give me a spirit that on this

Most of us have participated in some activities as we have progressed through high school. Not only have these activities served us well as a source of enjoyment and instruction, but have provided us with an outlet for energy, and have taught us to work together in a spirit of co-operation so necessary for a ship's crew.

STUDENT COUNCIL

With the aim of creating a more friendly attitude among the students toward the administration, the Student Council has successfully forged ahead. Officially opening the year, our representatives attended the Southeastern Massachusetts Student Council Convention at Plymouth, Massachusetts, later joined the National Association of Student Councils, and in the spring attended the convention held at Braintree, Massachusetts. At the meetings lively discussions took place on all matters. By the help of a newly added Suggestion Box, which informed the council as to what the students expected and wanted, and a bulletin board, which relayed to the students all business discussed at the meetings, the council was able to uphold the high standards of B. H. S. The council gave suggestions and made plans to encourage good citizenship.

CLIPPER STAFF

During our years at B. H. S. we have enjoyed reading the school magazine, "The Clipper," usually published three times a year. This year "The Clipper" had many new attractions and photos plus the usual school news, gossip, and literary work. Opinions expressed indicated that these publications were a great improvement over those of former years.

The advisers, Mrs. Catherine Towey, literary; Miss Mildred Whelan, business staff; and Miss Louise Hayden, typing; deserve much credit for their assistance. For the impressive showing that they have made this year, "The Clipper" staff and their capable editor, Nancy Pocius, merit much praise.

This year, under the supervision of the untiring and zealous Rodney Wiggin, the Boys' Glee Club turned out to be as fine an ensemble of male voices as Barnstable High has ever produced. Never before has a glee club taken such an extensive and active part in extracurricular activities. This glee club appeared before the Hyannis Rotary Club in December; it played a major part in the performance of Gilbert and Sullivan's "H. M. S. Pinafore" which was given in March; and many of its members attended the 1947 Music Festival, which was held in Vermont, the latter part of March. The rehearsals have proven to be so worthwhile and enjoyable, that this organization has become one of the most important of all.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

One of the most popular extracurricular activities is the Girls' Glee Club, under the direction of the patient and capable Miss Dorothy Barton. Group singing of this sort not only enables each member to become acquainted with the possibilities of her own voice, but it also teaches co-operation with everyone else, and the great results of harmony and concord. It was impossible to get in as much regular group singing as had been desired because most of the members had to rehearse for parts in the production of "H. M. S. Pinafore" and for the annual Music Festival, held at Brattleboro, Vermont. The results of these many rehearsals were so gratifying, however, that both Miss Barton and the girls are to be congratulated for their unusually splendid work.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

BAND

Much pep and spirit have been added to the school activities this past year by the members of the B. H. S. band, under the leadership of Rodney Wiggin. They have backed up the football team one hundred per cent by following it wherever it went. On the stand, the new trumpet cheer, introduced by their very able director, Mr. Wiggin, was the main attraction; on parade, they made a colorful and attractive display with their letter formations and serpentine marching. The B. H. S. band was again well represented at the New England Music Festival held this year in Brattleboro, Vermont.

More color was added to the band by the unusually fine and capable group of drum majorettes in their attractive new uniforms. Under the supervision of Miss Mary Murray, and headed by Mary Brown and Florence Dupuis they presented a fascinating sight.

ORCHESTRA

Front Row—Pickering, Gerrior, Goffin, George, Crosby, Gardner, Slavin, Fraser, Daniel, Simpson;
Second Row—Richards, Foote, Fisk, Coggeshall, Leland, Wordell, Gaffney, Sollows, Hinckley, Brown,
Fisk; Back Row—Mr. Wiggin, Terpos, LaFrance, Groop, Stever, Hart, Hord, West, Place, Andrews.

Under the direction of our new instructor, Rodney Wiggin, the B. H. S. orchestra has made great strides. The splendid work which the members did in accompanying the superb production of the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "H. M. S. Pinafore," and in playing so successfully for the many assemblies have brought much deserved praise for the orchestra. Several of its outstanding musicians were chosen to attend the New England Music Festival which was held at Brattleboro, Vermont.

Much credit goes to Mr. Wiggin for his outstanding work. We know that in future years oncoming pupils will keep the pinnacle set for the orchestra where it is now—at the top.

Spurred on by the aim of producing a medalist yearbook the Barnacle Staff has striven to make a new and more elaborate BARNACLE. The written articles were more inclusive, original, and brief. More informal and varied photos were included to give a more complete view of our life at school. Because of the title, the BARNACLE, and our close association with the sea, the theme that made its appearance this year was that of a ship and its crew. Each activity represents an appropriate part of the ship or crew which best illustrates that activity. This theme, on which the book has been based, was expertly carried throughout the book by the skill of the art editors.

Editors—Aikens, Mikkonen; Sports—Ferguson, Joakim; Personals—Hart, Dupuis; Art—Forstrom, Rosary; Prophecy—Keating, Hord; Typing—Lampi, Chisholm; History—A. Perry, P. Perry; Business—Steuer, Burman, Brown; Photographer—Terpos.

BARNACLE STAFF

Under the direction of Miss Jean Hinkle, Red Cross representative for Barnstable County, this council has been formed to discuss and take care of all business matters that deal with Junior Red Cross work in the high school. The officers of the council are: Joanne Ferguson, president; Jane Daniel, vice-president; Diane Eldredge, secretary; Martha Schultz, treasurer. With Mr. Harvard Broadbent as adviser, the council hopes to keep in closer contact with the exceptionally fine work which the American Junior Red Cross is doing.

RED CROSS COUNCIL

H. M. S. PINAFORE

H. M. S. Pinafore, a Gilbert and Sullivan light operetta, was presented in March by the glee clubs and the high school orchestra, under the direction of Miss Dorothy Barton and Rodney Wiggin.

With a superior cast, supported by an unusual and colorfully attired chorus, the production was gaily staged upon the good ship Pinafore of His Majesty's Navy. It involves the love life of the captain, his daughter, the admiral, an old Tarter, and members of the crew of the ship.

This is the first of annual performances, the proceeds of which will be used as a scholarship for some worthy senior who wishes to continue his studies in the field of music.

The past year's sports program provided exciting action between B. H. S. representatives and the evenly matched aggregations of her opponents. Rivalry between schools was at its peak as was evidenced by observing and listening to the highly spirited spectators who attended the contests of the various athletic squads. This sports program was started in the fall by the football squad. Coached by Leo Shields and Elliott MacSwan, this aggregation was faced with the toughest schedule in B. H. S. history. From the very first game, an out of state night contest at Providence against the formidable St. Raphael's Academy, and on through the entire schedule, the Red and White eleven showed their football prowess and determination, giving every opponent a "run for its money." As soon as football was terminated, basketball was maneuvered into full swing. Coach Arnold Rogean presented a good, strong, scrappy quintet which won more than sixty per cent of the regularly scheduled games. Since track and baseball took part after the BARNACLE went to press, nothing of the track meets nor of the baseball games could be written. However, the track team, loaded with veterans and coached by Harold Zeoli, anticipated a good season. Charles Howes, baseball coach, was faced with a more difficult situation, as the majority of members of the previous year's team were graduated. We knew that he would end up with a formidable squad. Thus ended another year of sports, a year of good strong Red and White squads, who left behind a proud record, both in playing ability and sportsmanship.

Our first mate, Leo Shields, besides serving as football coach, had another difficult task to maintain, the task of being our class adviser. Coach Shields was outstanding in both "ordeals," and we of the senior class give thanks for all that was done by him to make our class life both successful and happy.

the '46-'47 ATHLETIC SEASON

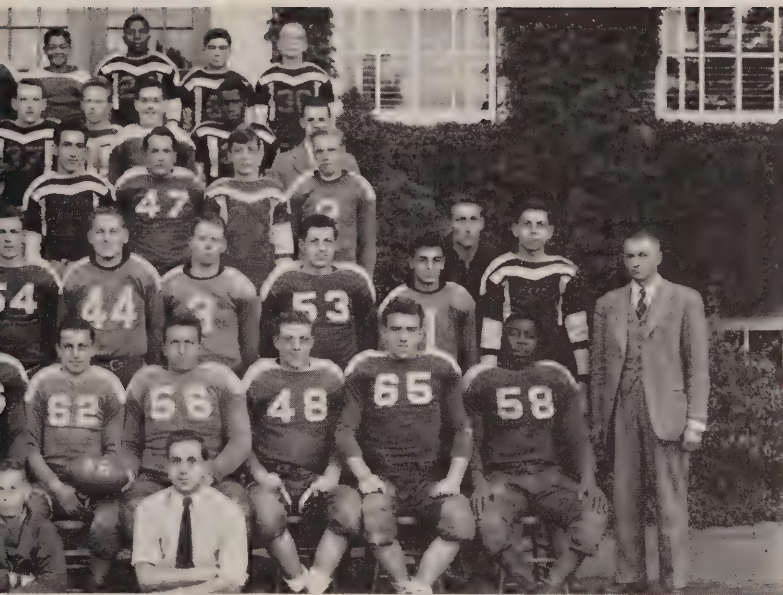

Much credit must be given to coaches Shields and MacSwan for the fine job they did in football. Faced with the knowledge that almost an entire new team had to be assembled, they began practice in early September. An eleven soon formed around the nucleus of a few first team veterans. The first contest was against St. Raphael in which B. H. S., though on the low end of the score, scrapped admirably against superior opposition. Then the Red and White "gridders" went down to successive close defeats at the hands of New Bedford Voke and Northbridge. Our next game, the ever-important contest with rival Falmouth, was won by the Shieldsmen. B. H. S. then bowed to Coyle and Fairhaven. A strong Plymouth eleven was tied, but formidable Milton beat the Red and White. In a finely played game the Crimson tied Middleboro. Finally rising to glory by defeating a second time their traditional Thanksgiving arch-rival, Falmouth, the B. H. S. "gridders" brought the season to a successful close and will be remembered as a clean, hard-fighting, spirited group of young men.

BASKETBALL

Coach Rogean, Walters, Andrews, Babbitt, Whitney, Sherman, Fish, Kahelin, Fulcher, LaFrance, Prada, Joakim, Perry, White, Brown.

TRACK

As was the tempo in other sports, a new basketball quintet had to be formed entirely by Coach Arnold Rogean. This, he did and the result of his efforts was a speedy, smooth-working five. They began the season by losing a hard-fought battle to Coyle High 44-40. The Red and White came back strong to win the next game and continued playing aggressive ball in the remaining games, losing some, but being victorious in the majority.

At the end of a fairly good season, the Red and White was scheduled to attend the annual South Shore Tourney at Brockton, in order to defend the Class A title won by the previous year's club. This tourney took place after your "Barnacle" went to press and so results of it were unavailable, but we were sure that our boys would emerge victorious if they displayed the same spirit and aggressiveness that they had throughout the regular season.

Then, as the last clouds of winter faded away, members of the track team began diligently practicing their individual talents for the forthcoming season. The squad under the supervision of Harold Zeoli, had only two meets scheduled at the time, and as they took place after your "Barnacle" went to press, their results could not be reported. However, it was known that the cinder team, loaded with veterans, would come through in these meets and any other which might be scheduled.

CHEERLEADERS

Headed by the active, versatile, and capable Helen Buckler, and directed by the very able Miss Mildred Whelan, the cheerleaders have added much color to all athletic events. Besides the pep, zeal, rhythm, and co-ordination of the girls, the new, varied, and snappy cheers have made this year one of unprecedented success.

Pocius, Heverly, Coleman, Nickerson, Buckler.

GIRLS' SPORTS

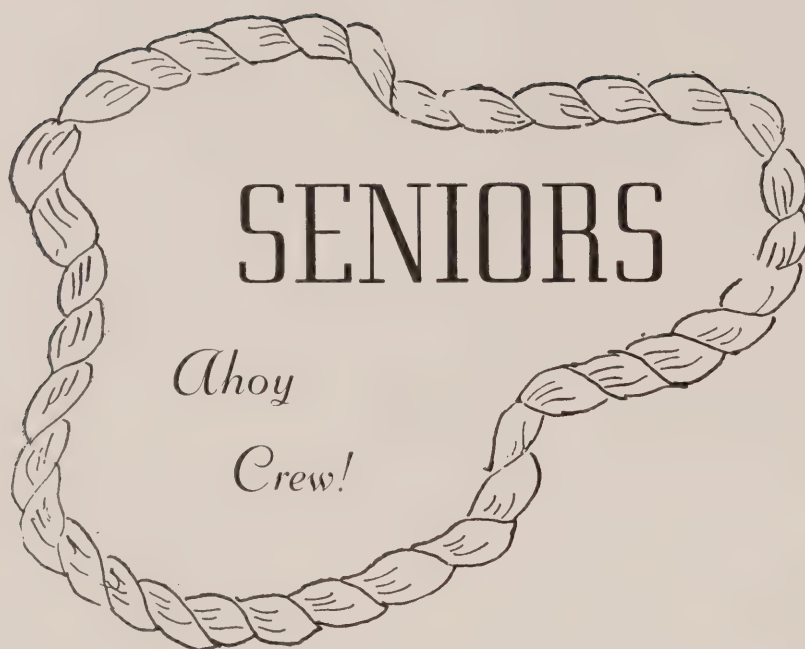

One of the best mediums for building morale, co-operation and developing good citizenship is participation in school sports. In this, the girls have traditionally held a very high place.

Although again there were no interscholastic hockey teams, many girls skillfully participated in interclass hockey.

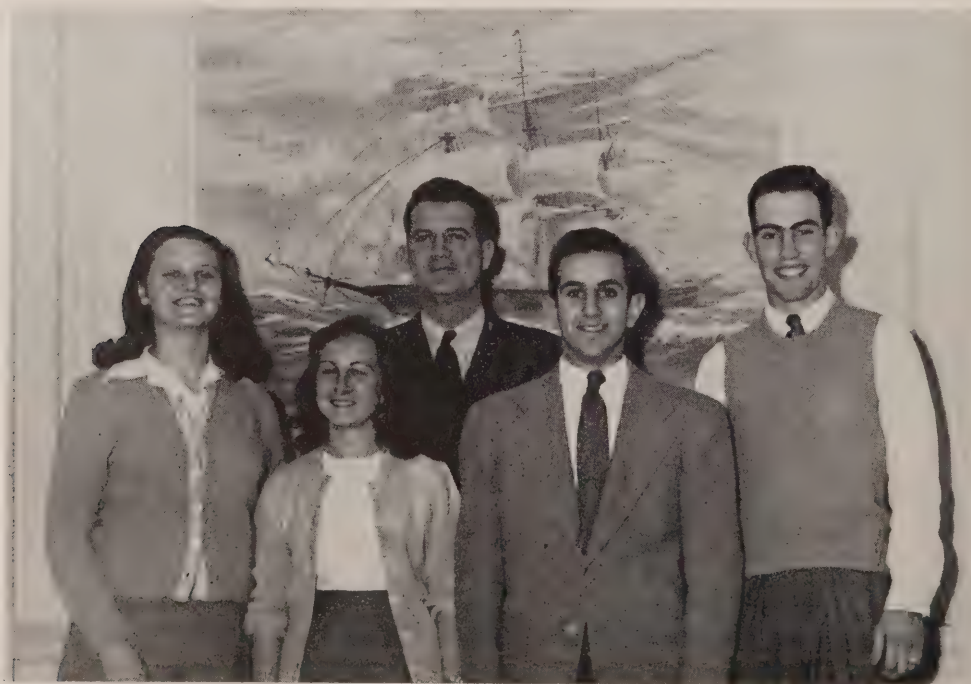

Again this year the girls' basketball team had a most successful season, although it lost to Sandwich its first game in three years. This loss, however, did not affect the Cape Championship, which the girls have held for many years. More games, both at home and away, were played this season than in previous years, and in all of them, the girls displayed the great skill, the high standards, and the fine sportsmanship of the expert coaching of Miss Katherine Nehubian. Having maintained their usual fine record, both Miss Nehubian and the girls deserve much credit for making this year one of the greatest on record in B. H. S. history.

Ellnor Stever, treasurer; Phyllis Perry, secretary; Mr. Shields, adviser; John Joakim, vice-president; Peter Baxter, president.

ARNOLD AIKENS

"He from whose lips divine persuasion flows."

Skip has contributed a great deal to our school life. Without his qualities for organization and leadership, our class just would not be the same. We know that he will be successful in anything that he may attempt in the future.

JEAN ARTHUR

"Love of play, not love of fame."

Jean's shining eyes tell us of her spark and vigor, although she may seem quiet and serene to many of us. Her lack of interest in books has caused both her and her teachers many agonizing moments. We wish her success in her chosen field.

Glee Club 11; Prom Committee 11; Clipper Typing Staff 11.

RAY BABBITT

"I'll drown my book."

Happy-go-lucky, with nary a care, and a ready smile always in evidence—that's Ray! He has a disposition that many of us envy and he is good in athletics. We know that he will do his best to brighten his future with his wit.

PETER BAXTER

"He held his seat—a friend to human race."

Pete has a trait of being a good and faithful friend and scholar. He is active in most sports and has been a "spark plug" in our class activities. In his leisure time, we hear that he is a great sailor. We know he will succeed in whatever he attempts.

DONALD CHISHOLM

"Men of few words are the best men."

Don, the brain of the business course, is a whizz in mathematics and aeronautics. Judging by the class, it is little wonder that he is especially interested in his Problems of Democracy class. We won't be at all surprised to see a new plane, which beats all records, designed by Chisholm.

JOANNE FERGUSON

"There is no wisdom like frankness."

Jo is not only a good sport, but a good student as well. She is our conscience; whenever we have an elfish desire to do something wrong, Jo does her best to dissuade us. No, she's not perfect, but pretty near for a Scot.

Here is a sea gull's view of our Barnstable High School, showing the school building and its surrounding grounds. In the lower left corner may be seen the girls' hockey field while to its right are the tennis courts. Above the hockey field is the parking space. As can obviously be seen, the football field and track are at the right of the school. Bordering the gridiron is our baseball field. Some school buses are already waiting behind the school for the two forty-five rush, that marks the ending of classes for the day.

THE CLASS HISTORY

Six years ago as new students
In the one and only Barnstable High,
We were worried, wondering, fearful,
Could we make it, "do or die"?

The first two years went swiftly,
Then came our freshman year;
We chose our courses and entered sports;
We started our future here.

Next, we were called sophomores;
At that time class elections were held.
Our social event was the "Jinx Dance"
To our way of thinking it was swell.

Then one more step, we were Juniors,
By Mr. Shields and Pete we were led;
Class rings were our next achievement,
With the symbol of the Indian head.

Our "Sports Afternoon" was a gala affair,—
Dave Whitney a cheerleader's dream—
With a "yippy ki yi" we were taken out West,
(Bill and his harmonica were right on the beam).

Then came May with the Junior Prom,
Jay Mando's orchestra took honors high;
The scene was the deck of a gallant ship
With silver stars in a make-believe sky.

We were all "sports-minded" as Seniors,
Falmouth was beaten at football by our boys;
Ernie Brown was the Hinkle Trophy winner;
Basketball was another one of our joys.

H. M. S. Pinafore and the Music Festival
Were other hits of our Senior year.
Miss Richards and the BARNACLE staff
Worked hard—graduation was near.

And so now our goal has been accomplished,
By hard work for years one and eleven;
We hope you will agree with us
This was a great class—Forty-seven.
